This year’s Congressional Advocacy Day builds on our successful efforts to protect sight through action at the federal level. Our efforts will highlight the regulatory burden that impacts our profession and we will be urging members of Congress to support efforts to improve our ability to care for our patients. Before we make our way to Capitol Hill, you will be fully trained on how to best represent our profession to members of Congress and their staff. All Academy members are urged to take part in this critical event to bring your voice to these important issues. Only you can protect your patients, practice and profession.

Metro to Capitol Hill

Members will be provided with Metro SmarTrip cards to accommodate their trips to and from Capitol Hill. A map of the Metro system and Capitol Hill is provided in the “Getting Around D.C.” section of the Congressional Advocacy Day Legislative Briefing Book. Please allow at least 45-60 minutes to get to the Hill before your meetings.

Meetings with Members of Congress and Staff 8:30 am – 3:00 pm

Appointments with your members of Congress have been made for you based on your home address provided at registration. Please check your schedule to ensure that you are on the Hill in time for your meetings. For questions about your appointments, contact Jacob Derzon at jderzon@aao.org or call 202.587.5809. Return from Capitol Hill to the Renaissance Downtown Hotel by Metro.

Contact Jacob Derzon immediately if you will not be available to attend your scheduled meeting. Missed appointments reflect poorly on the Academy and make scheduling future meetings more difficult.

Jacob Derzon, Jderzon@aao.org, 202.587.5809

3:40 pm- 5:30 pm  |  Reigning in Drug Spending
Moderator: George A. Williams, MD - President, American Academy of Ophthalmology
As American consumers call for lower cost pharmaceutical drugs, federal policymakers are committed to identifying solutions to slow rising drug spending. The Administration and Congress are considering new policies that could have substantial impacts for ophthalmology, with expensive Medicare Part B drugs a top target. This session will focus on drug policy changes coming out of the Administration, as well as congressional initiatives to address challenges in this arena. Important perspectives will be shared on how to ensure patient access to critical treatments while also controlling costs and maintaining incentives to promote pharmaceutical innovations.

1. SOCIAL MEDIA TRAINING: WHY YOU NEED IT AND HOW IT’S DONE
2. PRIVATE EQUITY-ROUND TWO

Hearing #1. Social Media Training: Why You Need it and How it’s Done
Grand Ballroom North/Central

Moderator: Andrea A. Tooley, MD - Member, Young Ophthalmologist Editorial Board American Academy of Ophthalmology; Fellow, Oculofacial Plastic Surgery, New York Presbyterian

Social media is comprised of various forms of electronic communication through which users create online communities to share information, ideas, personal messages and digital content. Originally created as tools to facilitate personal relationships, they have advanced to become as ubiquitous within a business context as the telephone and email, enhanced by their ability to extend the reach of communication like never before. The power of social media is increasingly being deployed within medicine to market physician services to the public as well as to provide a platform for physicians and medical organizations to advance their educational objectives. This session is a social media grand rounds, providing an overview of the major platforms and practical hands-on experience that will prepare participants to immediately enhance their ability to effectively engage with patients, the public and their fellow ophthalmologists.

Hearing #2. Private Equity-Round Two
Grand Ballroom South

Moderators: Robert E. Wiggins, MD, MHA – Senior Secretary for Ophthalmic Practice, American Academy of Ophthalmology and Arvind Saini, MD, MBA - Member, Young Ophthalmologist Committee, American Academy of Ophthalmology

There has been recent publicity regarding the purchase of ophthalmology practices by private equity firms. An earlier round of practice purchases by physician practice management companies in the 1990’s did not fare well for physicians. Is this time different? Hear from physicians who have explored or sold their practices to private equity firms and gain insights from their experience—whether you are considering selling your practice or joining one owned by a private equity firm.

#1. IRIS® REGISTRY - WHAT’S NEW

Hearing #1. IRIS® Registry - What’s New
Grand Ballroom South

Moderators: Aaron Y. Lee, MD – Member, Committee for State Governmental Affairs, Member, Task Force on IRIS® Registry Analytics and Research, American Academy of Ophthalmology and
Michael F. Chiang, MD – Trustee-at-Large, American Academy of Ophthalmology

Big data analyses in medicine have implications for clinical practice as well as for public health. The IRIS® Registry is the largest specialty clinical database in medicine, featuring over 220 million patient encounters and 50 million unique patients. The value of the IRIS® Registry to the profession is over $186 million collectively in avoided penalties in 2019 and bonuses on top of this for the vast majority of participants. Now, there are technology solutions to benefit Academy members and to bring value to their practice in other ways, including tools for more efficient clinical trial recruitment, and for benchmarking metrics for effective practice management.
