Dinner Briefing
LIBERTY BALLROOM (MEETING LEVEL 4)
MODERATOR: Donald J. Cinotti, MD – Chair, OPHTHPAC Committee, American Academy of Ophthalmology

The 114th Congress began in January with over 70 new members who need to be introduced to the issues that impact ophthalmology. This year’s Congressional Advocacy Day will focus on wide-spread changes to our health care system and Medicare. A fair and stable Medicare physician payment system remains a top legislative priority at Congressional Advocacy Day 2015. The Academy will also focus attention on improvements to Medicare quality programs, such as Meaningful Use and the Physician Quality Reporting System. Other issues could include increased support for eye health medical research or legislation that addresses advertisements that misrepresent a health care provider’s qualifications. Please join us as ophthalmologists from across the country descend on Washington to lobby Congress on these and other key ophthalmology issues. Before making their way to Capitol Hill, attendees will be fully trained on best practices for representing ophthalmology before members of Congress and their staff. All Academy members are encouraged to participate in this important and exciting Academy event.

3:40 pm- 5:30 pm

Under Pressure: Payment Trends in the Insurance Marketplace

MODERATOR: Cynthia Mattox, MD, FACS - Member, Health Policy Committee, American Academy of Ophthalmology

The marketplace for purchasing medical coverage is changing. Not only are record numbers of Medicare beneficiaries choosing private insurers in Medicare Advantage plans, an estimated 7+ million of non-Medicare subscribers are purchasing coverage through Affordable Care Act (ACA) exchanges. These insurer-designed offerings utilize cost control techniques such as narrow networks and quality designation programs that impact ophthalmologists. The Academy, Congress, and CMS are voicing concerns about access to care and patients who need specialty care. Coverage for ophthalmic procedures and surgery may look very different in the next few years.

Hearing #1. Ophthalmology EHRs: What You Need to Know in 2015

LIBERTY SALON I (MEETING LEVEL 4)

Moderator: Michael F. Chiang, MD – Chair, Task Force on IRIS™ Registry Analytics and Research and Past Chair, Medical Technology Committee, American Academy of Ophthalmology

Electronic health records have had a tremendous impact on the practice of ophthalmology and the issues related to EHRs are ever changing. In this session, experts will discuss the impact that EHRs have on quality of care, medico-legal liability, and office efficiency. The latest update on Meaningful Use will also be included.

Attendees will learn:

- how EHRs can be used to improve compliance with best care guidelines, prevent medical errors, and improve office efficiency;
- how to improve documentation practices in EHRs to avoid medico-legal problems;
- the role of registries in quality improvement, and about current and long-term goals of the AAO’s IRIS Registry; and
- the trends in the federal Meaningful Use program, and how real-world practices can qualify for this program.

\underline{Hearing #2. Ophthalmic Pharmaceuticals: New Challenges to Access}
\textit{LIBERTY SALON N (MEETING LEVEL 4)}

\textbf{MODERATOR:} Suber S. Huang, MD, MBA – Chair, Committee for Research Regulatory and External Scientific Relations, American Academy of Ophthalmology and National Eye Health Education Program (NEHEP) Planning Committee, National Eye Institute (NEI)

Ophthalmologists and patients have faced unprecedented challenges in accessing several ophthalmic drugs in recent years. New compounding pharmacy laws leave continued access to some critical treatments uncertain and many other drugs have seen significant increases in price without explanation. Ophthalmic Pharmaceuticals: New Challenges to Access will examine the continuing impact of compounding pharmacy legislation and implementation on ophthalmology practices.

LIBERTY SALON I (MEETING LEVEL 4)

MODERATOR: Robert E. Wiggins Jr., MD, MHA – Senior Secretary for Ophthalmic Practice, American Academy of Ophthalmology

With the backdrop of narrowing networks, rate cuts, and potential reimbursement penalties, more than ever practices must have a strategy in place related to their payer contracts. As practices are being asked to take bundled rates and share in financial risk that has traditionally been placed on the payers, practices must “partner” with their payers if they want to be successful. Keys to a successful partnership include: knowing your payer partner, having the right data, and being able to support the value that your practice adds in the network. Solutions that will be presented, but the practical take-home is that it will take doing homework.

Being the subject of an audit is stressful and time consuming for physicians and staff. Given the way audits are conducted, both by Medicare Part B as well as all other third-party payers, most physicians will be audited by some payer at some time during their career. This session will detail proactive preparation and present a step-by-step process of what physicians can do when the request for records is received. Real-life audit scenarios of Supplemental Medical Review Contractor (SMRC), Comprehensive Error Rate Testing (CERT), Recovery Audit (RA), and Zone Physician Integrity Program (ZPIC) in addition to Office of Inspector General (OIG) investigations will be presented. |

<td>There is broad agreement that current federal quality programs—PQRS, Value Based Modifier, Meaningful Use - are not effective at really moving the quality needle. Such programs, which come with the potential for significant financial penalties, often create administrative burden and extra work for physicians, without adding true value or improving patient outcomes. Physicians, patients and other consumers want the focus to be on what is actually meaningful in terms of patient-centered outcomes; not just meaningful use. This session will explore how specialty-led clinical data registries, such as the Academy's IRIS™ Registry, are shaping a new era in quality reporting, shifting focus to clinical outcomes and patient-centered outcomes, and driving true improvements in quality.</td>
